FRANKFORT, July 19th, 1836. Dear Sir—The four young gentlemen from the Georgetown Mathematical School, who are engagd as assistants in the Engineer Corps of the Sta have performed the duties assigned them in a very satisfactory manner. Among the young gentlemen of my acquaintance who have embraced the profession of Civil Engineering those who have heen educated at Mathematical Schools have generally succeeded better than the graduates of our common Colleges.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant, SYLVESTER WELCH. Engineer in Chief for the State of Ky
To the Professor of Civil Engineering,

Georgetown College, Ky. Louisville, July 29, 1836. Sir--It affords me pleasure to testify to the very correct and satisfactory monner in which the two young gentlemen from your school have conduct ad themselves during the time they have been in the service: and the ability manifested by the prompt and skilful discharge of their several duties is alike creditable to them and the character of the Institution in which they were instructed.

The books comprised in your course of studies Arithmetical Drawing are to form a part of you ment to an Engineer, and in the early part of his career will frequently bring him into notice and hasten his promotion to more responsonsible stations, where his talents may be fully developed. Appreciating as I do your efforts to elevate the cess, and I assure you it will afford me very great pleasure to render any aid in my power to secon

A REPLY. To the Voters of Kentucky

An address from the Central Whig Committee at this place, published on fore it was thought best to be silent. the 18th inst requires from us a reply. Its first object is to sustain Mr Granger against the charge of being an abolitionist-its second is to assail Mr Van Buren-we believe it has failed in both.

It is unfortunate for Mr Granger and General Harrison, that their claims have to depend so much upon the cercificates of their interested friends, and so little upon public records and public opinion. The journal of the House of Representatives at its last session, shews that during the agitation of the abolition question, Mr Granger took a leading part in pressing it forward-was conspicuous as a presenter of abolition petitions, having handed in, as we are informed and believe, upwards of fiftywas the active associate of Slade the Vermont abolitionist-and is actively supported as a candidate for the Vice Presidency, by every abolitionist in Congress as well as by the party out of Congress,

In opposition to this evidence we have a certificate from Mr Clay, and another from Mr Allan, in which those gentlemen certify, that from conversations with Mr Granger and from his public proceedings, they believe him to be no abolitionist. We do not think that the people of this State will have any more confidnce in Mr Granger, if they shall be convinced that he is avowedly no abolitionist, when they see him lending himself actively to forward their views. It will be in vain for him or his friends to attribute to him opinions, if his acts and his party connexions contradict them.

The committee have had the boldness to charge Mr Van Buren with abolitionism. The two acts of Mr Van Buren's life on which they rely to support it, are, as they say, that "he was in favor of the Missouri restriction"-and "of free negroes voting." We think the proof of his abolitionism as dependent on his support of the Missouri restriction, even if he did support it, as far fetched. Mr Van Buren was not a member of Congress during that session which decided that question; but as a member of the Legislature of New York, in obedience to instructions from his constituents, voted to instruct her Senators to support it. He acted silently as a Representative; and from his usual trankness, and particularly his decided ground against the fanaticism of abolitionism, we draw the inference that he did not then vote his own sentiments. But how did Mr Granger stand on that subject?-Was he not also in favor of restriction? Let the gentlemen answer. That a support of the Missouri restriction, is no objection to a candida'e with the members of the Whig central committee and their party, am convinced no time nor efforts of mine will we infer from the fact that they have ever be able to efface. Their censure is inzealously supported Mr Adams for the Presidency, and Mr Sergeant for the Vice Presidency, both of whom labored hard in Congress to prevent the admisside of the question.

from his vote on free negro suffrage. or costs, even in cases of slight misde-By the former constitution of New York, free blacks were admitted to equal suffrage with the whites. In the convention lice regulations, &c. whereby the poor Mr Van Buren successfully supported the cape with impunity by the aid of their propriety of a distinction between the money? colors. LATEST FROM MATAMORAS.

By a passenger in the sch. Haicyon from Matamoras, whence she sailed on the 19th instant, we are informed that there were 4000 Mexican troops in that place, who were daily paraded and drilled. Among them are some efficient corps, but by far the greater part of them were destitute of clothing and shoes, and had a very miserable appearance. General Urrea, their commander, had been ordered to the Capital by the Goverament, on the alleged ground of misconduct, and an endeavor to excite the troops against the present, in favor of the Federal Government of 1834 - He still, however, keeps the command, on the ground that the Government is indebted to him for advances of money made to pay off the army, and this is well liked by the soldery.

General Valencio or Bravo was expected to supercede Urrea, who would then repair to Mexico, and it was expected would disprove the accusations against him.

We are also informed that the morchants of Matamoras were apprehensive

Recent events must satisfy every impartial mind of the wisdom and patriotism which dictated that measure. The English merchants long ago ordered their agents here to have nothing to do with bills in this country, becoming due between October and January, for that there must be a crash, because of our rabid desire for speculation. That crash has come, having been hastened by the course of the Bank of England, and an universal failure of stock has taken place. But the banks have not failed. They have been fortified against this emergency by the President's specie order, which has therefore averted ruin further, that no division, brigade, regifrom multitudes of those who clamoured most against it.
